NOTE: There will be no intermission before, during or after this film. No latecomers will be seated once the film begins. As there is partial male nudity, parents are advised to shield their children's eyes. Anyone who may become nauseous upon observing Grand Theft is forewarned that this film contains scene after scene of explicit hard-core Rip-offs with no socially redeeming value. Our house doctor, Dr. Murray Rothbard, will be available after the show to take appointments.
